

Rasmala Trade Finance Fund

December 2019

Investment Objective

Rasmala Trade Finance Fund ("Fund") invests in a diversified portfolio of short-term, asset backed and/or credit insured Sharia compliant structured trade finance opportunities, primarily in emerging markets which may benefit from unique collateral arrangements. The Fund facilitates the movement (sale and purchase) of goods/commodities from countries where they are produced and stored, to where they are in demand.

The trade related investments are expected to deliver stable risk adjusted returns well above comparable money market rates while seeking to preserve capital and offering monthly liquidity.

The Fund provides investors with an opportunity to improve their overall international asset allocation through the access to the global trade finance market traditionally dominated by domestic and international banks. The Fund expects to distribute quarterly cash dividends to investors on record as of the end of March (distributed in April), June (distributed in July), September (distributed in October) and December (distributed in January).
